LITCHFORD — JOHNSON

The wedding of Miss Ruth Odelle Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard C. Johnson of Appomattox, and Cecil Wayne Litchford, son of Mrs. A. H. Misar of Lynchburg, took place Friday evening at 8 o' clock in Liberty Baptist Church. The Rev. O. Daulton Moore performed the double ring ceremony.

A program of wedding music was provided by Miss Catherine Richardson, organist, and Mr. James Hall, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an afternoon length wedding dress of bouquet taffeta, designed with sculptured torso, scalloped bodice with bracelet length sleeves, a scooped neckline outlined in a yoke of lace and a very full skirt. She wore a scalloped crown with teardrop pearls and a short circular veil and carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid, and showered with feathered carnations.

Mrs. Nancy Godsey Doss of Lynchburg, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of red velvet designed with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and a full skirt. She wore a headeau of red velvet centered with a bow, and carried a nosegay of red and white roses.

W. T. Hamilton, of Lynchburg, was best man. Ushers were Willard C. Johnson, Jr., brother of the bride, and Thomas B. StClair, of Lynchburg.

After the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained with a reception in the church Social Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Litchford will make their home in Lynchburg, where both are employed.

Tree Planting

Tree planting season is again in progress. Seedling orders are starting to accumulate.

100,000 seedlings have already been delivered. Any of the above seedlings has the opportunity to be a rose among thorns.

This sounds like a Pun, but when we consider the thousands of acres of land which were cut over during the past year, it is easy to see that there are many thorns or worthless trees left after the valuable trees were cut.

What happens to this land after the cutting depends on YOU, the landowner. If nature takes its course, the worthless trees will take over because they can grow in the shade. The valuable rose, on the other hand, in the form of a pine seedling needs full sunlight to grow. Make plans to destroy these worthless trees and plant pine seedling.

Information and assistance can be obtained by direct contact with your District Forester, R. P. Brierley, Box 386, Farmville, Va., or by request through your Chief Forest Warden, County Agent, or Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.
